Dear Soumya,

May i add mine and my team's heartfelt condolences to the countless condolences that you must have received for such a towering and charismatic personality whose commitment to Indian farmers transformed India's agriculture forever. I was personally involved in the Right to Food campaign and the movement often took his guidance at crucial junctures. He will be sorely missed by all of us.

A father's death is not easy on anyone, and i understand that such a father's absence would have extraordinary consequences for you and your family. Please take care of yourself too!
